OVERVIEW

- The TEK pre-tax NTA as at 30 November 2024 was 25.7 cps, compared to 24.9 cps as at 31 October 2024
- During the month, positive contributions from Avita Medical, Imricor Medical Systems, Mesoblast, and Credit Clear were offset by declines in Clarity Pharmaceuticals, DUG Technology and Envirosuite.
- During the month TEK purchased 1,859,865 shares under its on-market share buyback at an average price of 14.6 cps. The on-market share buyback expires on 23 October 2025, with a total of 2,759,865 shares having been bought under this current program.

CHAIRMAN'S COMMENTS

"Portfolio performance in November was marginally up compared to October, as the market estimated the potential effects of proposed economic policies which may be implemented following the clear election result in the USA. In addition, ongoing geopolitical instability in various regions continued to occupy the minds of market commentators.

Markets continue to be largely bereft of technology IPOs in Australia limiting the ability of many of TEK's unlisted investments to access public markets for capital and leaving them to rely on the tighter conditions in private capital markets. One exception late in the month was the successful debut on the ASX of Vitrafy Life Sciences Ltd (ASX: VFY), an early-stage life sciences company where TEK was an early investor.

TEK continued to be active across both its listed and unlisted investment portfolio, especially during this period of AGMs in Australia with activities focused on CCR, DUB, SPA, DOC, BEO and QFE. With ongoing attention, we maintain our optimism that the value of these portfolio positions will accrue over time.

TEK continues to be active with its on-market share buyback, one initiative aimed at eliminating the share price to NTA discount.

INVESTMENT PHILOSOPHY

TEK seeks to identify early-stage companies with new and disruptive technology and business models, investing in a broad range of areas of technology, such as fin-tech, ecommerce, education, agriculture, medical, telecommunication, robotics and AI.

INVESTMENT OBJECTIVES

- Deploy investment capital into listed and unlisted technology companies
- Producing absolute returns for shareholders over the medium to long-term
